Scott McCord

Scott is a new student at Tebughna School. Scott likes it here, but he thinks there are too many students. Scott would like a food contest here because he thinks that would be fun. He enjoys his time here because the students here are nice, but the teachers here aren't that different from his other teachers, except there is more homework.

BettyJane

BettyJane is one of the new teachers here at Tebughna. She grew up in Massachusetts, but mainly taught school in California. BettyJane has lived in Alaska since 2011, working in several communities. While in Alaska, BettyJane has lived in Anchorage, Dillingham, Northway, Hooper Bay, Nunamiqua, Anvik, and Tyonek. BettyJane has a bachelor degree in social welfare and a Masters of Arts in Education from National University.

BettyJane is certified in general education, as well as special education. BettyJane wanted to become a teacher because she wanted the kids to know that they can accomplish anything. So far, BettyJane likes Tyonek and says " The Kids are great,

Upcoming event: Jennifer freeman from Project GRAD will be here at the school on Friday to talk with the kids.

Moose camp 8/30/18 to 9/3/18.

On Thursday afternoon after lunch the kids left to the Tribal Center to get ready to leave for moose camp. All the kids were excited to go camping. While they were camping they had nice warm weather. At camp the kids helped pack wood, set up tents and unpacked everything that they needed for the weekend. On the first day all the kids settled into their tents. The second day, all the kids went out to pick berries and later on that night they tie-dyed shirts. On the third day, all they kids and a couple adults went for a nature walk and then sat at a table and made keychains during the evening. The last night they ate marshmallows, made ginkush, and hung out with each other before they went home.
